TIFOGO

Tifogo is a platform that enables you to easily keep up with real-time soccer news related to your favorite teams, leagues, and players. You don't have to browse multiple websites any more - simply log in and create a profile by selecting your favorite teams, leagues, and players. You will be receiving globally sourced and curated feed, containing only the soccer news you care about, and you will be able to adjust your topic preferences in real-time.

Project lifecycle

A client came up with an idea of soccer news aggregator. We needed to create one place where users could check articles and posts from a bunch of different resources. To manage content, we planned to have the Admin panel. Here is how the website used to look. We used nice and clear template for webpage design.

It was live for more than a year, and it became very popular among soccer fans. However, after a while, the client decided to improve it and add more features. Moreover, they had a major rebranding, and they created a unique design. This is how Tifogo was born.

Once users click the news link, they are being transferred to the news source.
Videos from YouTube can be played instantly.
In addition, there is an option to share the news via e-mail, Twitter, and Facebook.

All the feeds are managed from the Admin panel. Currently, there are more than 1000+ links available. Client has a support team that adds and keeps tracking of the links.
